

ELIZABETH WOTHERSPOON
Director, Growth – The Icehouse
BA (Psychology) (USA)

Liz joined The Icehouse in 2006 as Director of Growth and Coaching. Responsible for leading a wide range of activities, Liz is focused on improving the capabilities to grow established SMEs.

Liz holds a B.A. in Psychology and Business from Bucknell University in Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, USA. She provides a broad range of consulting services to clients including facilitation, organisation design and structure, training, role and competency profiling, performance management, capability needs analysis, management coaching, and change management.

Prior to joining The Icehouse, Liz was General Manager and Director of Grafton Consulting Group. Liz has spent most of her career contributing to the success of her client companies through working with them to develop their most important asset - people.

Liz was Director, Training and Development for the New Zealand Institute of Management. In this role she had overall responsibility for NZIM Auckland's executive development, public programmes, customised training and consultancy services and the effective planning and management of international speaker seminars. Elizabeth also served as Acting General Manager for NZIM for a 4 month period.

Upon leaving NZIM, Liz took up a role with TMP Worldwide (formerly Morgan & Banks Group) in Auckland where she was Manager, Human Resources Consulting.

Originally from New York City, she spent her career prior to moving to New Zealand working for Columbia University Graduate School of Business in New York City.
